PERSONAL.—"James," is a New York paper.

"In Hills Church, Va., one of our suburban villages, resides the physician who attended Edgar Allan Poe in his dying moments. His name is Dr. J. J. Moran, and is not only skilled in his profession but is a highly educated man. We had the pleasure of an extended interview with him, in which he spoke quite freely of the poet's last actions and words. Dr. Moran attributes Poe's death to prostration resulting from exposure rather than to the direct effects of the liquor. He saw no signs of alcoholism about Poe nor smell it upon his breath during or after the supper to which he was in at the time the drunkard brought him to the Hospital at Hillsboro, of which the Doctor had charge at the time. Poe's mental and physical suffering were very great after his return to consciousness, and he once said, 'My best friend would be the man who would blow his brains out with a pistol.' Everything possible was done to alleviate his suffering but he survived only a few hours.

Dr. Moran has received and accepted an invitation from a number of literary ladies and gentlemen of Washington to deliver a lecture in that city, to take place the latter part of December, on the life, character, and death of Edgar Allan Poe.

Mrs. Judith Norbury, who has been ill for some time past, is for many friends will be glad to learn, rapidly convalescing.

S. C. St. George, will have been to-morrow for St. George, British West Indies, on permanent business.

POLITICAL NEWS.—The Mayor's office this morning presented quite a lively scene. Major Beckham and before him four constable-keepers and the keeper of a counting-house establishment, charged with keeping their places of business open yesterday in violation of the Sunday law.

Flip Brown, colored, who escaped from the chain gang yesterday; Nat Turner, colored, charged with breaking out who "because she was singing with a male member of the First colored Baptist Church on election day" was Cross colored, for keeping a business on his premises; James Clark, for being drunk and disorderly Sunday night, and breaking in the window of the house of a colored man, in the 1st ward; Sam Taylor, colored, for assault on a small white boy, and Nat G. Brightwell, for disturbing the east and west of a colored man named Wilson, who paid a visit to his place without a house, during recessions. The four colored persons were fined $10 each, the constable-keeper $1. Flip Brown was ordered to go to the ship yard for the next 24 hours; Nat Turner was fined $5 and discharged; Sam Taylor was fined $1, and, in addition to the payment of said fine, sent to the chain gang; James Clark was fined $5 and discharged; Taylor was fined $2.50, and, for the non-payment of the fine, sent to the chain gang; and Nat G. Brightwell was discharged with the delivery to Wilson of his due and costs. Total fine collected, $37.50.

SPEND YOUR MONEY AT HOME.—The following, from an exchange, is reasonable advice, and if followed by the people of Alexandria, will result in good to the city.

It is your home; you cannot improve it much by taking your money away to invest. There is no way of improving a place more easily by enacting legal documents, good laws, and good people to settle among you, and then expect to stand unless you spend your money at home, for there is where you get it. Spend your money at home, because when it is necessary to get credit it is of your own townsmen you have to get it, and they most want for the money. Spend your money at home. Now I make better business for your customers. They can and will buy better services, and it is never rates than if the only business they could do was to come out, with the money goes to other places. Spend your money at home. Not the example now. Buy your dry goods, groceries, and meat in town, and you will see a wonderful change in a short time in the business outlook of the place; therefore deal with your merchants at home. Your merchants are your neighbors and your friends; they depend by you in sickness—set your securities. Without your trade they cannot keep up business. Numerous are the men waiting to buy property to send on and build up the place."

A WANTON TRICK.—The practice of arson people—probably mischievous individuals—of setting fire to buildings as soon as posted and sometimes before the post is well dry, is reprehensible to say the least, especially when it is remembered that such burning is obviously the work of profiteers with no other design whatever than that of malfeasance, and who only need opportunity to commit another the next day. The representations of which they take such satisfaction in destroying. The modern show bill is disgraceful, as it increases in splendor from year to year, and people who never darken the draycott's place of amusement with their names, do not even dare to hazard the pictures of the bill. Besides, too, it should be remembered that the destruction of shows are charged regular tax on the admission price, and all persons having claims against the estate, will present them, duly authenticated, for payment.
